NOVEMBER 17-20, 2016
PASADENA, CALIFORNIA

IND O U S T R I A S

A NOTE FROM THE HOST COMMITTEE

For four days in November, Pasadena will serve as MSA's base of operations. (We understand there's some minor affair planned for the city on New Year's Day, but we're sure it pales in comparison.) Welcome to the joys of Southern California in the fall!

None of this would have been possible without the generous help of our local collaborators in and around this lovely city, including the staffs at the Westin Pasadena and the Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens. Our efforts have been guided along the way by the MSA Board. We're particularly indebted to Treasurer Gayle Rogers, Program Committee Chair Lisi Schoenbach, and MSA President Stephen Ross. The seasoned advice from last year's organizer, Carrie Preston, helped keep it all in perspective and Alex Christie, web-master extraordinaire, agreed once again to manage the medium for the MSA message (gratis).

MSA 18 would never have happened without the help of our fearless assistant, April Anderson, the one who kept us on track so that fun could be had by all.

So, here's to the fun, however you define it, and to making MSA 18 a "conference to remember." Kevin Dettmar & Eric Bulson, Yr Obt. Servants

A MESSAGE FROM THE MSA PRESIDENT

For this year's conference we have taken special efforts to introduce streams within the program that are aimed at more fully integrating interdisciplinary approaches, and in line with the conference theme. "Dream Factories" focuses on topics such as surrealism, psychoanalysis, fashion, architecture, cinema and design; "California and the Cultures of Modernism" considers linguistic, cultural, and racial diversity.

The Program Committee, led by Lisi Schoenbach, and reinforced by Jessica Berman, Bill Maxwell, Lisa Siraganian, along with the superhuman April Anderson, deserve all our gratitude for putting together the intellectual feast we now enjoy. Thanks as well to Alex Christie for his great conference web design. Local organisers Kevin Dettmar, Eric Bulson, and April Anderson (once again) have performed heroic work in getting everything in place—Thank you!

We gave out 50 Conference Travel Awards, totalling just over $15,000, on top of $5,000 in the first annual Research Travel Awards. Keep the applications coming! At the end of this conference the presidential mantle passes to Jessica Berman and Laura Winkiel becomes Vice President and Allan Hepburn takes over as new Treasurer (replacing Gayle Rogers). In addition, Ignacio Infante will replace Christopher Bush as the new co-editor of Modernism/modernity.

Got it? Good. Enjoy the conference. That is all.

Stephen Ross,
President, MSA

Keynote Roundtable: "Modernist Design"

Fountain Ballrooms I, II and III

PANELISTS

Gwen Allen, Mark Allen, Edward Bosley, Jr., and Patrick Jagoda

MODERATOR

Justus Nieland

Gwen Allen is an Assistant Professor of Art History at San Francisco State University, where she specializes in modern and contemporary art, art criticism, and visual culture. She has published in Artforum, Art Journal, Bookforum, Umbrella, Performance Research, and Art New England. She is the author of Artists' Magazines: An Alternative Space for Art (MIT Press, 2011).

Mark Allen is an artist, educator and curator based in Los Angeles. He is the founder and executive director of Machine Project, a non-profit performance and installation space investigating art, technology, natural history, science, music, literature, and food in an informal storefront in the Echo Park neighborhood of Los Angeles. Under his direction, Machine has produced shows with the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Hammer Museum at UCLA, the Museum of Contemporary Art in Denver, the Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis, and the Walker Museum in Minneapolis. He has produced over 1,000 events in Los Angeles at the Machine Project storefront space.

Edward "Ted" Bosley, Jr. was appointed Director of The Gamble House in 1992. For more than 15 years Ted has taught the historic site management class for the USC Summer Program in Heritage Conservation. With Gamble House curator Anne Mallek, Ted organized a major exhibition of the work of Greene & Greene in 2008–2009, entitled "A 'New and Native' Beauty: The Art and Craft of Greene & Greene." He is also co-editor, with Ms. Mallek, of the book of the same title, published in 2008 by Merrell Publishers Ltd. More recently he contributed an essay on the Greenes and Frank Lloyd Wright to the book Maynard L. Parker: Modern Photography and the American Dream (Yale University Press, 2012).

Patrick Jagoda is Assistant Professor of English and New Media Studies at the University of Chicago. He is a co-editor of Critical Inquiry, co-founder of Game Changer Chicago Design Lab, and has directed several alternate reality games and published widely in a number of peer-reviewed journals. He has coedited two special issues: "Comics and Media" (with Hillary Chute for Critical Inquiry) and "New Media and American Literature" (with Wendy Chun and Tara McPherson for American Literature).

Françoise Mouly, "In Love with Art...and Comics"

Rothenberg Hall, The Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens

COMPLIMENTARY TICKET REQUIRED | Shuttle Buses Depart from the Westin Beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Françoise Mouly has been recognized as "one of the most influential editors in comics and illustration in the last thirty years," and for good reason. Since 1993, she has been art editor at The New Yorker during which time she has overseen the publication of more than 1,000 covers (not including the rejected ones she collected and introduced in Blown Covers in 2012). She is also the publisher and editorial director of TOON books, a comics series for kids launched in 2008, for which she has won numerous awards including the Theodor Seuss Geisel Award for "the most distinguished" book for beginning readers, the Eric Carle Museum Bridge Award for "sustained achievement in the realm of the illustrated book for young people," the Smithsonian magazine's Ingenuity Award for her work in education, and she was recently selected as a nominee for the Will Eisner Hall of Fame. Since 1980 she has coedited (with collaborator and husband Art Spiegelman) the groundbreaking comix magazine RAW (where Spiegelman's Maus was first serialized); the New York Times bestselling Little Lit series; and the TOON Treasury of Classic Children's Comics.

Digital Exhibits Showcase

Madera Foyer

This Showcase features a range of research tools, mapping and visualization tools, bibliographies or databases, corpora of media or texts, digitization initiatives, and interactive interfaces, all related in some way to modernist studies. Presenters will provide demonstrations of their projects, explain project design, talk about tools/software used, and discuss challenges they faced or questions they wish to address in future iterations of their projects. We have made a particular effort to showcase projects that advance the field of modernist studies in unique ways. The showcase will span two panel sessions and a break so that conference attendees have ample opportunity to visit and learn from participants in this event.

CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Our program this year features two special streams intended to highlight interdisciplinary and intercultural approaches and to draw upon the opportunities presented by our Southern California location. The special streams are “Dream Factories,” which will focus on extraliterary topics such as surrealism, psychoanalysis, fashion, architecture, cinema, and design; and “California and the Cultures of Modernism,” which will consider linguistic, cultural, and racial diversity within modernism. Panels and roundtables that are part of these special streams will be highlighted in the program. These are two of the many ways in which conference participants this year are engaging in interdisciplinary and intercultural collaborations.

NOTE ON ACCESSIBILITY

The MSA’s policy on access is that the organization “is committed to ensuring that all conference registrants will be able to participate in conference events. We ask that all conference attendees give thought to questions of access and work with the conference organizers to create an event that is welcoming to the entire community of participants.” In the spirit of this policy, we would like to request that presenters print out extra copies of their papers and make them available at their sessions. In addition, we would also like to remind presenters to describe any images they are using so that they are more accessible for visually impaired attendees. If you have any questions or concerns about accessibility at the conference, please contact the Program Chair, Lisi Schoenbach, at aschoenb@utk.edu.

THURSDAY | 10:00 A.M. – 11:30 A.M.

WORKSHOPS

W1.

Mid-Career Modernism: Opportunities and Challenges

San Marino

LEADER: Kevin Dettmar (Pomona College)

INVITED PARTICIPANTS:

Celia Marshik (Stony Brook University)

Jennifer Nesbitt (Pennsylvania State University, York)

Michael Thurston (Smith College)

Early academic career paths are fairly well mapped as we pursue tenure or the first book. We talk less explicitly about subsequent career stages. This workshop convenes engaged mid-career academics to discuss opportunities they've pursued (or consciously avoided) during this professional stage. Topics include publication, pedagogy, service, administration, and work-life balance.

W2.

What Do Presses Want From Your (Modernist) Book?

San Rafael

LEADER: Matthew Hart (Columbia University)

INVITED PARTICIPANTS:

Philip Leventhal (Columbia University Press)

Douglas Mao (Editor, Hopkins Studies in Modernism Book Series)

Jacqueline Norton (Oxford University Press [UK])

Victoria Rosner (Co-Editor, Gender and Culture Book Series, Columbia University Press)

Mark Whalan (University of Oregon)

This workshop will bring together commissioning editors from leading university presses and series editors to address a range of practical, intellectual and professional issues involved in conceiving, writing, and proposing a monograph in modernist studies and related fields.

THURSDAY | 11:30 A.M. – 1:00 P.M.

WORKSHOPS

W3.

Preparing an Effective Grant Application

San Rafael

LEADER:

Kevin Dettmar (Pomona College)

INVITED PARTICIPANTS:

Ann Ardis (University of Delaware)

Rebecca Boggs (National Endowment for the Humanities)

Steve Hindle (Huntington Library)

Resources to support humanities scholarship are limited, and granting agencies' criteria sometimes opaque. Representatives from two large humanities funding agencies, and one working modernist researcher, will talk about how to identify likely sources of support and how to write a compelling grant application.

W4.

Overcoming Writing Obstacles

Altadena

LEADERS:

Katherine Fusco (University of Nevada)

Elisabeth Joyce (Edinboro University)

This workshop will assist the early-career writer and academic in developing tools and strategies to be productive in spite of daunting impediments, such as negative criticism or heavy teaching loads.

W5.

Teaching Modernism

San Marino

LEADERS:

Marian Eide (Texas A&M University)

Erin Hollis (California State University, Fullerton)

Modernist studies have changed radically in the last two decades with new access to unpublished and out-of-print sources, a widening geographic range, and ongoing debates regarding periodicity. How have the changes in our collective research and publication changed what we offer to students of modernism? Have new media and teaching platforms advanced modernist pedagogy? This workshop will produce a collaborative space in which scholars may share their pedagogical innovations and consider changes to their own curricular content or approach.

NOVEL

A FORUM ON FICTION

Nancy Armstrong, editor

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE SOCIETY FOR NOVEL STUDIES

Novel is a peer-reviewed journal devoted to the best new criticism and theory in novel studies. The journal took up this mission in the days of formalism and has responded to the innovative moments in the field during the half-century following—including ideology critique, feminist and critical race theory, poststructuralism, cultural studies, and new historicism—by publishing the most interesting new work on the novel. As globalization and crises in biopolitics and the environment rapidly increase, and as models of affect theory multiply, the novel and how we read it are undergoing a sea change. Novel is especially interested in theory and scholarship that address these changes in terms of their formal, historical, political, and/or epistemological significance.

MODERNIST CULTURES

Volume 11, Number 2 Summer 2016

Edinburgh University Press

Print ISSN: 2041-1022

Online ISSN: 1753-8629

Publishing: March, July & November

Modernist Cultures seeks to open modernism up to new kinds of inquiry, and to examine the interdisciplinary contexts of modernism and modernity.

It is published by Edinburgh University Press (EUP) for the British Association for Modernist Studies (BAMS).

“THE TOTAL EFFECT OF THE CULTURE INDUSTRY IS ONE OF ANTI-ENLIGHTENMENT, IN WHICH ENLIGHTENMENT, THAT IS THE PROGRESSIVE TECHNICAL DOMINATION OF NATURE, BECOMES
MASS DECEPTION AND IS TURNED INTO A MEANS FOR FETTERING
CONSCIOUSNESS. IT IMPEDES THE DEVELOPMENT OF AUTONOMOUS, INDEPENDENT INDIVIDUALS WHO
JUDGE AND DECIDE CONSCIOUSLY FOR THEMSELVES.”
